BETSY EVANS AND MARTIN ZIPERN

... Candidates for Vice Presidency

Prexy Candidates Present Platforms

• ELDON MILLER, candidate for president, presented the following points in his platform: 1) an investigation and re-evaluation of our present program of student activities to determine whether or not they are properly filling the needs of the student body; 2) since the office of the president is an administrative and not a legislative office, he feels that it would be his duty to coordinate the functions and activities of the other members of the council and the platforms which they initiate, rather than attempt to dictate the activities of the council; 3) in order to counter the criticism that many of the student body are not aware of the procedure of the council, he proposes to make all council meetings open, and invite and request all students to attend regularly; 4) until such time as the demand presents itself, he does not believe it is necessary for all members of the council to have office hours, but he proposes to have regular office hours for himself, and to publish a directory so that all other members of the council may be easily located.

The other candidate for president, Ed Rutsch proposed: 1) to have each member of the council available and making an active effort to get the activities of the council before his constituents. This could be done by posting the council minutes on each school's bulletin board weekly, with features and events of special interest outlined and paraphrased in red for quick reading. 2) to do his best to get a music appreciation group active with the specific aims of having great artists in Lisner auditorium in the fields of classics and jazz. 3) to institute a means by which students can thoroughly investigate the national political scene in an academic climate; 4) to do everything in his power to have: a) a full investigation into the feasibility of instituting and operating an honor system at the University, b) intercollegiate debate at the University, and c) an investigation into the prices in the bookstore; 4) in the activities field, to have closer coordination between the council and the co-chairman to attempt to aid the overall effect of strengthening social activities.

May Day, Fri., Features Election Results, Prizes

• "FANFARE IN THE Square" is the theme of this year's May Day program to be held this Friday at 8:30 p.m. in Lisner auditorium.

Highlighting the evening will be the crowning of the 1958 May Queen by Al Rode, Student Council president. The finalists are Kathy Denver, Meredith Eagon and Doris Rosenberg.

Using a meeting in the town square as the theme, the program will open with a parade in which the town band leads the townspeople onto the stage. The mayor, Bernie Passeltiner, will serve as the Master of Ceremonies of the program while everyone waits for the election returns.

During this time "outstanding citizens" will be recognized by Mortar Board, who will present an award to the outstanding sophomore woman; Alpha Delta Pi, who will recognize the outstanding junior woman; and Pi Beta Phi, the outstanding senior woman.

These prizes are on display in the trophy case in the Student Union lobby. The winners' names will also be placed on a permanent plaque to be displayed by the drama department.

The theme for the show will be "Trial by Jury." Each act will present its own case, the audience will be the jury and the judges will decide the verdict. The dialogue will be written by Don Wasserman.

Competition is open to all organizations or individuals. A group may have more than one entry. Suggestions for acts made by Ed Ferrero, director, include skits, instrumentals, songs, dances, scenes from shows and comedy. Tomorrow is the deadline for entries.

Veep and Advocate Contenders Speak

Betsy Evans, candidate for vice president, stated that she is in favor of: 1) the motion passed by the Student Council abolishing all closed nights except Homecoming and May Day; 2) modifying the controversial rule of the Student Council to permit organization on campus of clubs such as the Young Democrats and Young Republicans; 3) a greater recognition of the activities of University in the overall student activities calendar and 4) the greater promotion of the student enrollment committee.

Martin Zipern, the other candidate for vice president, gave the following ideas: 1) he feels that the organization of political parties on campus would do a great deal to excite enthusiasm and to promote more qualified people to petition for Council positions; 2) he shall do whatever possible to expedite the long-awaited study activity fee; 3) he also proposes the organization of a national and inter-mural debate tournament; and 4) better publicity and cooperation in attracting more of the top students from both the local and out-of-town high schools.

Hal Bergem, candidate for advocate, said that: 1) he was primarily interested in seeing increased interest in student government on the part of the students; 2) he would like to work for the betterment of student-faculty relations, and 3) he was for the availing of an opportunity for self-expression of any student or any student group.

Charles Landon, second candidate for advocate proposes: 1) to create increased student interest in matters of student government particularly as administered by the Student Council; 2) the revision and improvement of the Articles of Student Government to meet present needs, including the

We Think . . .

Vote, And Then—

• WE URGE ALL students to think about the candidates running for student office, to vote, and to come to May Day this Friday and learn the results.

The lengthening of the campaign period this year enables you to learn more about the candidates. The elections forum last night gave you the opportunity to hear platforms for those up for election. Now it is up to you to vote. The voting procedure has been made easier for you and activity books are no longer the only valid identification. Remember the platform which your candidates presented. It your man wins, hold him to that campaign. He is your representative.

The announcement of the winners will be made at the traditional May Day assembly. The ceremony will give recognition to those students who have contributed to University life during the past year and single out those who will be the leaders in the activities field next year. Announcement will be made of new HATCHET and Cherry Tree editors, sports and literary award winners, and the new members of Mortar Board and Order of Scarlet.

Again, we urge you to consider the candidates, mark your ballots and attend May Day, a good program that you will enjoy.

In Our Opinion—

• ONCE AGAIN STUDENT Council elections are upon us, one of the most important times of the school year. The success or failure of next year's Council rests this week on the selection of qualified and experienced candidates to fill the various positions. We the HATCHET Board of Editors would like to take this time to voice our opinion as to who we think the best candidates are.

The HATCHET did not pick nominees for each position because there were some jobs, as the Junior college and Engineering college representatives, for which it was not adequately informed to name the best candidate. Therefore, it dispensed with picking any of the school representatives and confined itself to the main offices.

First there is the office of president. We think that Ed Rutsch is the most qualified for the job. His experience as vice president of this year's Council and his participation in other activities of leadership make Mr. Rutsch our candidate for president.

For the position of vice president, we feel that Betsy Evans is the best candidate. Miss Evans also has had experience on the Council (Junior college representative, 1956-57) and has served in executive positions on many other campus jobs.

Our selection for comptroller is James Lear. Mr. Lear, treasurer of the Engineer's Council, Theta Tau engineering fraternity, and Pi Delta Epsilon, and business manager of MECHELECTIV, has the necessary experience for the job.

For secretary our choice is Marcia Saslaw. Miss Saslaw has served as Student Council assistant secretary in addition to holding two Co-Chairmanships, Winter Weekend and Summer Carnival.

Our selection for advocate is Hal Bergem. Mr. Bergem has served as Student Council assistant advocate this year, is Co-Chairman of Colonial Cruise, and has the necessary experience for the office of parliamentarian.

Ann Marie Sneeringer is our choice for Member At Large. We believe that Miss Sneeringer, special projects chairman for Tassels last year, is the best candidate for this cultural position.

For Student Union Chairman we have picked Carl Scrivener. Mr. Scrivener's platform, in addition to his demonstrated ability, is the reason we named him as our candidate.

For the various directorships, we have selected Kitty Hyland for Freshman Director, Judy Jaffe for Program Director and Gail Evertson for Publicity Director.

There it is in a capsule, the HATCHET's nominees for some of the offices in the 1958 Student Council elections. As we must stress again, these are OUR selections for these offices. Perhaps you will differ with us on some of the selections, but that is your prerogative. Perhaps we will not approach last year's mark when the HATCHET correctly named all but one of the candidates for the Council positions. Everything, considered, however, the Board of Editors feels that the above named people are the most qualified and experienced for the positions they are seeking.

Dr. Howard Maxwell Merriman Blends Distinction and Scholarliness

by Hal Bergem

• DR. HOWARD MAXWELL MERRIMAN, professor of American Diplomatic History, is all the distinction and scholarliness that his name implies, but these qualities of Dr. Merriman are evenly blended with his warmth and joviality.

Dr. Merriman is a native of the mid-west. He was born and reared in the small, unheard-of town of Wyoming, Ohio. This history professor is a product of a family with many summer, Dr. Merriman is planning to author a slim volume on an interpretation of nineteenth century U. S. diplomacy.

DR. H. M. MERRIMAN
... Professor of American Diplomatic History

An exciting venture abroad filled the interim between commencement at Cincinnati and the granting of the Harvard Doctorate. Upon graduating from the Ohio college, he went to Harvard "to get my bearings" and then trotted off to Paris, where he lived for one and a half years on the Left Bank. Dr. Merriman attended a few classes at the Sorbonne, but never received any type of diploma. "If I got bored with Paris, it was nothing to take a short trip to London, Rome, or Munich," said Dr. Merriman.

Upon his return to the United States, Dr. Merriman once again enrolled "very happily" in Harvard. He became a teaching assistant to James Phinney Baxter II (currently President of Williams College) in American Diplomatic History, and began his doctoral work. The American Diplomatic post at George Washington University was soon vacated by one of the foremost of American historians, Samuel Flagg Bemis. With his doctoral work not quite finished, then-Instructor Merriman waited a year and then assumed Bemis' old role here at George Washington. The course in American Diplomatic History had been well established by Dr. Bemis, and no vital organizational work was needed when Dr. Merriman came here.

He arrived in 1937 and taught American History, American Diplomatic History, and its corresponding seminar, and Current History. Now his courses include the Diplomatic and Seminar and a fairly new subject, Canada and the United States. He left in 1942 at the beckoning of our good Uncle and spent four years in Military Intelligence—entering as a private, moving up through the ranks, and sporting the bars of a second lieutenant upon his discharge. He returned to the University where he became executive officer of the History Department in 1953.

Currently, Dr. Merriman is engaged in heavy research for his forthcoming three-volume work on the overseas expansion of the United States. Dr. Merriman figures it will take him practically the rest of his life to complete this work, which has necessitated all available archival study. This summer, Dr. Merriman is planning to author a slim volume on an interpretation of nineteenth century U. S. diplomacy.

Among Dr. Merriman's favorite pastimes are reading, the theatre, symphonies, and bridge. His favorite sport, nowadays is riding his 16-month old son, Jeffrey, in the stroller. "Jeffrey has changed my life these last two years," stated Dr. Merriman, beaming.

"My life hasn't been a startling one, but a pleasant one—primarily teaching and research," surmises Dr. Merriman. Indeed, it has been a pleasant one. As for the many who have had the good fortune to enjoy an association with Dr. Howard Maxwell Merriman as either instructor or friend, their lives undoubtedly became more pleasant by it.

All Eligible Girls!!

• ATTENTION ELIGIBLE GIRLS: The Gate and Key Society is now in the process of accepting petitions for dates for their First Annual German Party to be held next Sunday, May 4, at 4 p.m. at the Sigma Phi Epsilon Lodge. Deadline for petitioning is noon on Thursday. No girl should bother to petition to have a date with Frater Norton Hardesty, as no one has told him about the party, and no one will. Petitions should be turned in to the Student Activities office in the Student Union annex. Dates will be selected on the basis of originality, sincerity, and . . .

● ATTEMPTING TO KEEP up with things around here this month is like trying to square a circle—Spring Formals, elections, May Day, Cruise, term papers—and rain.

This Thursday evening the good brothers of Sigma Nu were the guests of Kappa Kappa Gamma for a coffee hour. The sisters of KKG presented a skit about something or other. Morna Campbell was voted the outstanding actress of the evening and was presented with an Oscar (The Kappa Sing Trophy). Saturday evening the Sigma Nu's hopped on the Ranch Wagon and went western for their annual Frontier Ball. The gala affair was held at the farm of Doug Hatch in Burke, Va. Cowboys and Indians gathered for a massacre to crown Sharon Ronnigen, Pi Phi, as queen of the ball. She was presented a crown (tengallon hat) and was escorted around the dance floor on a noble steed. Fighting pitched battles in the haystack were: Harry Jones and Val Berman, ADPI, Dick Hathorne (better known as Poco-haunt-us) and LaNelle Peterson, Pi Phi, Rural Delivery Hudelson and Joyce Mandley, KD, and Chief Wahoo Steve Kemp with Janice Platt.

SAE held its Spring Formal at the Belle Haven Country Club last Friday. The evening started with a cocktail party at the home of Dick and Jay Marth, after which the brothers and dates went to the club for dinner and dancing. Notables included Eldon Miller and KKG Joey Britton, Dick Martin and Chi O Fanita Bartoo, Tom McHan and DG Jan Martinez, and Bill Tinley and KKG Kathy Blackburn. The formal was followed with an "after hours" party at "killer" Stulls' home. Late guests included Jerry Sluger and KKG Pat Gilliam, Red Jenkins and Pippa Federson, and Ed Dyson and pinmate Julie Andrews. (While this party was going on, Mike Hartweel and DG Bev Magee and pledge Dick Stream and ADPI Sheila Shinn were seen bobbing up and down on the Chesapeake Bay in a twelve foot yacht waiting for the sun to rise.) To round the weekend off John LaGorce played host to some of the same faces at a BAR-B-Q held at his home. The SAE house expects to begin activities for the final social weekend of the school year by having a spectacular "Jazz Concert" Friday, May 9th, at 2:30 p.m. at the house, 1824 19th St., N.W. Music will be provided by Joe Rinaldi and his Quintet, formerly of the Bayou Restaurant in Georgetown. There will be no charge for admission and the brothers invite the entire University to join them. It means free beer also, troops.

Silent shadows, cloaked in strange attire, entered stealthily into the Acacia Chapter house. The lights were dim and in the corner was... a mummy (Hester was not the mummy). It was Acacia's annual Night on the Nile party. Wearing appropriate Royal Roman purple was Acacia's President, Ross Heasley, with Martha Good, who was immediately recognized as the fifth cousin of Cleopatra's aunt. Although ice may have been difficult to find in Egypt, Acacia's Nile, with Jack Crawford's help, sent ice cubes galore down toga-like costumes. Lynn McMorris, Acacia's sweetheart, helped Ross Heasley choose Jack Hoffman and Paul Plumb's newly pinned Betty Halub to reign as the King and Queen. After a mad whirl of tasting Egyptian morsels and dancing on desert sands, a mummy wrapping contest resulted in Lee Oliver being wrapped the fastest by Callie McCoy and receiving her exotic prize with pride. Pledge Gordon Callison and GW's crack shot, Marjorie Spencer, were observed guarding the dim shadows of the Pharaoh's domain.

The Delta held their annual

Rainbow Ball Saturday nite at the Magnolia Room of Huntington Towers. The scene was one of mob proportions with many in attendance. Seen were Tom Topping and KKG Butch Russell, John Bachman and DG Cissie Anderson, Bill Medina and DG Mary Ann Alderson, Roger Hart and Theta Carol Hollett, past year's Delt queen, Buddy Watwood and KKG Jean Barnes, crowned this year's Delt Rainbow Queen.

The Alpha Delta chapter of Delta Zeta announces Gene Creech has been selected as "Girl of the Month."

Kappa Sigma fraternity announces the pinning of Brother Pat Mechem to Norma Engberg, Delta Zeta.

Members of Phi Sigma Sigma set sail for Annapolis last weekend for an exchange with the midshipmen at the home of Resa Zall. Among those in attendance were Betty Pitt, Letty Katz, Linda Yuter, Sally Gellman, Penny Gomburg, and Jackie Lovett.

Sunday last, the KKG's and The Sigs warmed up at the Sig house for this week's Colonial Cruise. Plans had originally been for a picnic, but the weatherman changed their plans.

Last Sunday the Gate and Key Society bestowed the honor of allowing the Delphi girls to take the Sacred Nectar with them at the Acacia House. The females charitably provided some garnishments to go along with the Nectar; however neither went far enough.

Among those present were Fraters Jerry Roemer, Bob Moore, nasty Norton Hardesty, Kitty Hyland, Bunny Miller, Letty Katz, Pat Kallis.

Phyllis Bloom is the new sweetheart of Alpha Epsilon Pi Fraternity. The Norbeck Country Club was the scene last Saturday night (April 19) of AEPH's conclave dinner-dance. Prominent among the crowd were members of G. W.'s brand-new chapter and their dates: Mike Abrams and Bob Brauer, Rita Wertlieb and Al Walker, Dobra Bressler and Mickey Myers, Rhoda Ezrin and Ted Greenfield, Elaine Beckman and AEPH Gerry Libman, Rona Englander and Joel Davis, Doris Rosenberg and Larry Margolis, Diane Sugar and Phi Alpha Richie Pincus, Debbie Reznick and Joel Seidman, Ruth Herman and Stan Cohen, Harriet Litoff and Irwin Berger, and Phyllis Grossman and Phi Alpha Ronnie West.

This Sunday, May 4, the AEPH's are having a "Welcome, GW" party at the Sigma Chi house from 4:30 on. All Colonials are invited to attend the open house.

Dance Concert Exhilarates, Entertains

by Carol Miller

● AN EXHILARATING and original experience was afforded those who attended the Dance Production Concert last Friday or Saturday night.

Humorous Satire

"Conversation Piece" combined originality of dance movement and musical background to produce a humorous satire on daily chatter. Carol Frankfield as the sack and Nancy Bailey, Arthur Bauman, Wendy Burke, Elizabeth Clark, Stephen Cohen, Garcia Latham, Carolyn McKnight, Carol Miller and Mike Taylor depicted the ideas of stockmarket, hypertension, and psychoanalysis. "West Side Story" a fast moving dance of the lower west side of New York, expressed the tensions between the rival gangs of the district. The above group also performed to the tense, versatile music of Leonard Bernstein.

More Numbers

"Permutations and Combinations" successfully combined an experiment in illumination and fine body movements. The percussion accompaniment of Robert Ridgway and Leon Hakwins added the fanciful and varied themes of the number. In contrast was "Ace High" a tale in dance of Monte, a Louisiana card shark, Richard Bushey; his lucky ace, Miriam Levitan; and his gambling opponents, James Black and Jerry Osborne. As Monte's check was shuffled, Stephanie Davis, Patricia Evans, Beverly Giss, Joan Ramage, Joan Talbert, Ilene Sanders, and Karen Schlagater portrayed the various cards of the game of luck.

"Song Within," danced by the advanced group, was based on variations on a travel theme. "Greensleeves," brought out the beauty of the English folksong as danced by Gregg Mayer and Arthur Bauman.

Adding to the program, "the Broadway Suite" appealed to the nonmodern dance members of the audience. "Forty-five Minutes for Lunch" had excellent cohesiveness for the number of performers depicting the meeting of a sailor and his girl. "Shall We Dance" though well-known, added a charm of its own through the agility and enthusiasm of the group. "Once a Year Day," danced by the advanced group, combined all the activities and fun of a picnic with the joy that accompanies such an affair.

Directors of the Groups are Elizabeth Burtner, director of Modern Dance at the University, and her assistant, Gay Cheney. Pianist Evelyn Lohoefer accompanied the group with her original score. Technical Director, Donald C. Kline, combined talents with Leo Gallenstein for the lighting. Costumes were under the direction of general manager, Jackie Schiller assisted by Cynthia Rhodes, Elizabeth Knowles, Ruth Herman, Lianne Tyrone, and Arthur Bauman.

● WHAT DO YOU think qualifies a candidate for a Student Council office?

Tom Whyte—"I think that there are about three qualifications. 1) experience in the council itself or other activities. 2) Having time to devote to the job. 3) A real fundamental interest.

Bill Zawacki—"Depends mostly upon his leadership ability and the knowledge needed for the office he is running for."

Neal Hyatt—"The candidate should have the time to devote to the job and some background which previously acquainted him with the job. He should also have the good of the student body in mind all the time."

Carolyn Hall—"Experience in the office he is running for and leadership ability."

Bob Musgrove—"Somebody who has the time, will and ability to put into a job so that he could carry on for the best interest of the student body."

Jim Roman—"He should have a good platform and stand by it when he is elected."

Mike Naftalin—"The ability for seeking out issues that need defending or promoting and meeting his opponent's arguments rather than the manner in which he presents them."

SWEENEY IN THE TREES

Spring is here—the season of tree-sitting contests. This I applaud. Tree-sitting is healthful and jolly and as American as apple pie. Also it keeps you off the streets.

Tree-sitting is not, however, without its hazards. Take, for example, the dread and chilling case of Manuel Sigafoos and Ed Sweeney, both sophomores at the Nashville College of Folk Music and Woodworking, and both madly in love with a beautiful alto named Ursula Thing, who won their hearts singing that fine old folk song, I Strangled My True Love with Her Own Yellow Braids, and I'll Never Eat Her Sorghum Any More.

Both Manuel and Ed pressed Ursula to go steady, but she could not choose between them, and finally it was decided that the boys would have a tree-sitting contest, and Ursula would belong to the victor. So Manuel and Ed clambered up adjoining aspens, taking with them the following necessities: food, clothing, bedding, reading matter, and—most essential of all—plenty of Marlboro Cigarettes.

We who live on the ground know how much you get to like with a Marlboro. Think how much more important they must be to the lonely tree-dweller—how much more welcome their fine, mild tobacco; how much more gratifying their free-drawing filters; how much more comforting their sturdy, crushproof flip-top box. Climb a tree and see for yourselves.

Well supplied with Marlboros, our heroes began their tree-sitting contest—Manuel with good heart, Ed with evil cunning. The shocking fact is that crafty Ed, all unbeknownst to Manuel, was one of three identical triplets. Each night while Manuel dozed on his bough, one of Ed's brothers—Fred or Jed—would sneak up the tree and replace him. "How can I lose?" said Ed with a fiendish giggle to his brother Fred or Jed.

But Ed had a big surprise coming. For Manuel, though he did not know it himself, was a druid! He had been abandoned as an infant at the hut of a poor and humble woodcutter named Cornelius Whitney Sigafoos III, who had raised the child as his own. So when Manuel got into the tree, he found much to his surprise that he had never in all his life felt so at home and happy. He had absolutely no intention of ever leaving.

After seven or eight years Ed and his brothers wearied of the contest and conceded. Ursula Thing came to Manuel's tree and cried, "I am yours! Come down and pin me."

But Manuel declined. Instead he asked Ursula to join him in the tree. This she could not do, being subject to moper (a morbid allergy to woodpeckers), so she ended up with Ed after all.

Only she made a mistake—a very natural mistake. It was Jed, not Ed, with whom she ended up.

Ed, heartbroken at being tricked by his own brother, took up metallurgy to forget.

Crime does not pay.

New Pre-Med Club Gets SC Probation

• THE STUDENT COUNCIL recently granted probationary recognition to the Aesculapian society, a new pre-medical club at the University.

Reviving the tradition of a pre-med society which was located at the University before the war, the new organization provides information and entertainment for University students hoping to enter medical school.

According to the club's advisor, Dr. Robert C. Vincent, professor of chemistry and advisor for the pre-science curriculum, the club's meetings have so far been dedicated to speeches from doctors on admission to medical school or on recent research work.

The group, which usually meets once a month, has at present a membership of approximately 40 persons. Its present officers, serving until elections on May 2, are: Allen Cohen, president; Martin Reichgut, vice president; Mary Kay Patterson, treasurer, and John Laskey, treasurer.

Membership in the society is open to anyone with a Q.P.I. of 2.5 who is passed for admission by the club's Interviewing Committee.

Babe Marshall attempts to slide into third base in the eighth inning of the William and Mary game at the West Ellipse. Marshall was thrown out, but the Buff whipped the Indians, 3-0.

Randolph, Tarr Win; Tennis, Golf Triumph

• THE BUFF NETMEN remained undefeated in the Southern Conference by blanking Washington and Lee and Richmond last week.

On Thursday the Colonials beat W and L 9-0. This was the second conference win for the Buff who beat William and Mary earlier in the season. W and L proved little competition for the G. W. racketmen who are on their way to another Southern Conference title.

On Friday G. W. continued on the victory trail by whitewashing Richmond at Kenwood Country Club. Jim Tarr, the Buff's No. 1 man, beat Bob Collins 6-2, 6-3.

The Colonials now have an overall record of 6-2. With three Southern Conference victories under their belt, the Buff netmen remain favored to take the Southern Conference crown for the third consecutive year.

G. W. vs. Richmond

Singles

Jim Tarr defeated Bob Collins, 6-2, 6-3. Jack Tarr defeated Bob Turner, 6-3, 6-2. Saul Liebowitz defeated Allan Burgess, 6-2, 6-3. John Bouquet defeated Dick Pulley, 6-0, 6-0. Jim Whitehead defeated Dave Hicks, 6-0, 6-0. John Kaard defeated Ed Eley, 6-0, 6-1.

Doubles

Kaard and Jim Fischman defeated Hicks and Eley, 6-1, 6-0. Liebowitz and Bouquet defeated Collins and Turner, 6-1, 6-2. Whitehead and Erwin Shorr defeated Pulley and Burgess, 6-1, 6-0.

Campana, Hill Hurl Wins

Errors Hurts G. W., W&L, Indians Lose

• GEORGE WASHINGTON'S BASEBALL team made a total of fourteen errors in three games last week, but still managed to get by with two wins as the Colonials remained in second place in the Southern Conference.

The Buff blew a chance to tie the Richmond Spiders for first place in the Conference, as four errors and weak hurling gave the Spiders a 6-2 victory.

Frank Campana and Dennis Hill, the Buff's much publicized rookie pitchers, hurled the Buff to wins over William and Mary and Washington and Lee last week.

Campana threw a seven hitter against the Indians as the Buff won 3-0. Two walks, an error and a single gave G. W. two runs which was enough for Campana as he notched his fourth victory of the year.

Bases Loaded

William and Mary threatened in the fourth inning as they loaded the bases on errors with one out, but Campana pitched himself out of any further trouble.

Hill, the Colonial's other newcomer, won his second game of the season by defeating the Washington and Lee Generals in 11 innings.

Hill smashed a single in the eleventh inning to score Billy

Flynn with the winning run and gave the Colonials a 6-5 victory.

The Buff cracked out 18 hits, but also committed five errors. The win gives the Colonials a 4-2 Southern Conference record and a 7-6 overall mark.

Gino D'Ambrosio, Colonial, left-fielder, led G. W.'s hitting attack with four singles. D'Ambrosio scored twice and knocked in one run. Flynn and Jack Henzes collected three hits apiece in the hitting spree.

Buff Lose

Earlier in the week the Buff took on Richmond in a game for first place in the conference, but the Spiders maintained their undefeated Conference slate.

George Bickerton, still having trouble after last year's fine season, committed three errors that led to five Richmond runs to spell defeat for the Buff.

It was a sloppy ballgame as the Buff committed four errors and the Spiders made two miscues.

Seven Games

George Washington has seven more Conference games left to play. Richmond is leading the league with an undefeated slate and has to meet the Colonials on May 1 at the West Ellipse.

The Colonials are seeking their third consecutive Southern Conference title. Richmond will have to be upset in the Conference and the Buff will have to play almost perfect baseball if G. W. expects to win the championship.

The Big Three series is still in progress as the Colonials meet Georgetown on the Hoyas home field today at 2:30. In the Clubs last meeting, the Hoyas came out on the winning side of a 9-5 score.

George Washington's only other Big Three game was against the Maryland Terps on April 10. The Terrapins walloped the Buff 15-3.

Buff Second In 1st Match; Rams Win

by Aaron Knott

• LAST SATURDAY the G. W. Rowing Club placed second to a strong Fordham Ram team in the Colonial's first intercollegiate match. Finishing two lengths behind Fordham, the Buff beat St. Johns by six lengths, to become a serious contender for the Dad Vail meet on May 10.

Rowing the mile in 5.02 and winning a moral victory has brightened the teams outlook, and the taste of victory should make the Buff a strong contender in the Dad Vail, which will be held in Philadelphia this year.

If the Colonials win the Dad Vail meet, they will be hailed the best small school crew in the East. Fordham is top seeded in that meet, and will provide the strongest competition. Other schools in the meet are Rawlins, LaSalle, Florida Southern, Brown, Marietta and Amherst.

Fast Start

In Saturday's race, Fordham started strong and took an early lead. Letting Fordham set the pace for the first half mile, the Buff crew began to close in the second half, and got to within one length of the leaders by the third quarter. St. Johns trailed the whole distance.

The Colonial crew this year is Bill Johnston bow, Mark Hockman No. 2 oar, Harry Slye No. 3, Jim Roper No. 4, Sandy Morrison No. 5, Nick Smart No. 6, John Mclean No. 7, Bob Moore at stroke, and coxswain Bob Collins. The crew is fortunate this year in being coached by Fred Maletz, who coached the W&L High School crew which won the National championships.
